

Gabriel MAZILU is currently acting as an advisor on cyber security within the Romanian Prime Minister Office.

Over the last 7 years (2009-2016) he has been acting as the Deputy Director for CyberIntelligence Operations of the National CYBERINT Center, within the Romanian Intelligence Service (SRI).

While he held the previous position, he has been the national coordinator of identifying, investigating and countering cyber attacks performed by state entities against National Critical Infrastructures (NCIs) and by cyber organized crime targeting infrastructures from financial-banking, national health, energy and transportation, public administration and e-government.

Having an experience of 21 years in the National Security field, he has been the national coordinator for establishing strategic analysis, assessments and estimations regarding Cyber Threats to Romania's National Security, that have been disseminated as intelligence reports to the National Decision Makers.

His extensive knowledge regarding cyber threats to the national security allows him to perform as the Chairman of Cyber Conferences within NATO (2015) and European Intelligence Services (2010, 2012, 2013, 2015), but also a briefer to NATO's „Cyber Defense Away Day” (2013, 2016) and to more than 30 National Cyber Conferences (e.g. “Cyber Threats” – Bucharest, “Cyber Security Congress” – Sibiu, “Black Sea Defense and Aerospace” – Bucharest).

He also acted as a briefer to National Bank of Romania regarding cyber threats and attacks targeting Romanian's NCIs from financial and banking system.
