

Arseny Sivitsky, Director, Center for Strategic and Foreign Policy Studies, Belarus

Mr. Arseny Sivitsky is the director of the Center for Strategic and Foreign Policy Studies, one of Belarus most recent think tank established by young researchers to promote the culture of strategic studies.

He is a member of the Military-Scientific Society under the Central Officers' Club of the Armed Forces of the Republic of Belarus, PhD-student in the Institute of Philosophy in Belarus National Academy of Science with focus on social and political philosophy and methodology of science, political observer and columnist in a number of state and non-state media.

His main research focuses – global security, Eurasian integration, European integration, new balance of power on the Middle East.

Arsenal Sivitsky participated in different international academic and educational programs and projects (EU, Russia, US, China, etc). He has been a policy analyst for the Belarusian Development Group between 2008-2013, a political observer and columnist for the Zvyazda newspaper from 2012 until 2013. He is now a Lecturer on regional conflict studies, conflicts in IR, peace building and conflict resolution at Russian State Social University in Minsk, since 2014.

He published several papers such as "Look at Syria, See Afghanistan Russia's New Geostrategy in Southern and Central Eurasia. Situation Analysis Report", november 2015, "Russia's New Geostrategy: Implications and Challenges for Architecture of International Security", september 2015, or "The Belarus-Russia Conflict Through The Lens Of The Gerasimov Doctrine" in march 2017.