

Robert Lupițu is the Editor in Chief of CaleaEuropeană.ro, the main EU and Transatlantic Affairs media outlet in Romania. An expert on EU integration and international relations, Robert has dedicated his previous academic research on NATO's strategic reassurance in Europe - focusing on the Eastern flank.

Since 2018, Robert is the Romanian journalist that attends each edition of the Munich Security Conference. As a journalist, he covers each NATO Summit, other regular meetings of the North Atlantic Alliance and European Council summits.

He is also a member of the Global Shapers Community, a World Economic Forum initiative, and part of the strategists networks of Aspen Institute Romania and the Romanian Office of the German Marshall Fund of the United States. Since 2019, Robert Lupițu is a member of #TT27 Leadership Academy under the umbrella of the in-house think tank of the European Commission.
