

Romeo Milea – Network Development Director

Romeo Milea is the Network Development Director for Vodafone Romania, with more than 20 years experience as Senior Executive in IT&C. He has both Strategic and Operational background in developing and operating networks at a national and European level, being a pioneer in implementing business models for the cutting-edge technology and innovations that change people's lives. He has been an active part in implementing the 2G, 3G, 4G and 5G mobile and fix networks in Romania.

Romeo Milea is a graduate of the Electronics and Communications Faculty, at the Politechnica Bucharest, and has finished his Bachelor's degree in Electronic Communications. In the recent years, he has studied Business Management at the Imperial College London.