

Prof. Dr. Liliana- Ana Tuță, MD, PhD

Prof. Dr. Liliana-Ana Tuță currently works as a professor of Internal medicine & Nephrology in the Faculty of Medicine, Ovidius University of Constanta, Constanta, Romania and she currently is the Vice-Rector for International Relations, international students and medical fellows, since 2016. She is the Head of the Nephrology Department at the Emergency Clinical County Hospital, Constanta, department she founded in 2006. She is past President elected of the Romanian Society of Nephrology (2017-2019) and President of the Commission of Nephrology- Romanian Ministry of Health (2019-present).

Prof. Tuță clinical and research interests include internal medicine, nephrology, dialysis and renal transplantation, ultrasonography, clinical studies and medical humanities.

Dr Tuta is the local coordinator of the renal replacement therapy national program, rare diseases- Fabry disease and the post-transplantation monitorization regional program. She gained her medical degree at the University of Medicine and Pharmacy “Gr. T. Popa”, Iasi, Romania, and her PhD degree from the University of Medicine and Pharmacy “C. Davila”, Bucharest, Romania. She also has a master’s degree in medical management and she attended the postgraduate course “Nephrology 2006” in Harvard Medical School, Boston, Massachusetts. Dr Tuta Liliana has numerous successfully completed projects in increasing the national and international visibility of the Ovidius University of Constanta, coordinating the international relations department and Erasmus+ Office activity.