

Arthur Kenigsberg

Arthur Kenigsberg is a distinguished French expert specializing in Central and Eastern European affairs. He is the President and co-founder of Euro Créative, a Paris-based think tank dedicated to fostering dialogue and understanding between France and the countries of Central and Eastern Europe. In addition to his leadership at Euro Créative, Arthur serves as a parliamentary collaborator at the French National Assembly.

Arthur's academic background includes studies at Sciences Po Saint-Germain and Sorbonne Université, where he deepened his knowledge of political science and international relations.

As an analyst and commentator, Arthur has contributed to various publications and platforms, offering insights into European power dynamics and advocating for enhanced cooperation between Western and Eastern Europe. His work emphasizes the importance of understanding the political landscapes of Central and Eastern European countries and their roles within the broader European context.