

- Ph D Emilian M. Dobrescu, born in 1954, is during 29 years, Scientific Secretary of the Romanian Academy, Department of Economics, Law and Sociology. His key qualification is Economic Integration, General Management, Social Economy, Sociology of Management, Economy of Rare Earth. He also carried out assessment and synthesis of the researches undertaken by the national institutes and their inter-relation in the transition from communism to market economy. He has participating in reaching practical solutions to complex economical problems, biodiversity, integrated from a socio-human point of view.

He is familiar with the management and operational procedures. He has an extensive experience in the field of organizational and institutional programs and evaluation of various national programs. He has specialist skills in the following areas: 1. Scientific activity co-ordinator in fields as: Economic, Law and Sociological Sciences. Studies on Scientometry considering all the mentioned aspects of the situation in Romania today. Synthesis of social and financial aspects and their inter-relation in the transition from communism to market economy; 2. Practical solutions to complex economical problems, biodiversity, integrated from a socio-human point of view; 3. Evaluation of social impact assessment for strategies and national plans and their implementation; 4. Assessment of social, economic and educational programs; 5. Coordinating research teams; 6. Preparing curricula for graduated and post-graduated courses aimed on social, economic and educational objectives.