

Răzvan BOLOGA, Professor at the Computer Science Department of the Bucharest University of Economic Studies, Romania

Răzvan Bologa is a full Professor within the Computer Science Department in the Bucharest University of Economic Studies. He is the head of the innovation and research commission inside the university where he has managed several important projects as well as a master program. He is actively involved with innovative start-ups. His research interests include: Industry 4.0, cybersecurity, AI and online learning.