

Ms. Jessica Knight, Researcher at the National Cyber Security Centre, UK

Jessica Knight is a researcher at the National Cyber Security Centre (NCSC), working in data science and artificial intelligence research to improve the UK's cyber security posture. The wider team is focussed on three areas: the security of AI models, using AI for cyber defence and the cyber threat from AI. With a background in mathematics, Jessica is passionate about exploring formal guarantees on the security properties of models.